

THE PHILIPPINE STAR / People & Events
March 26, 2007, Monday / page D-6

LIVING TREES MUSEUM: St. Scholastica's Priory represented by Sr. Mary Placid Abejo OSB, Environment and Natural Resources Secretary Angelo Reyes and Tanay Mayor Ricardo Tanjuatco signed a memorandum of agreement (MOA) for the creation of the Living Trees Museum in Barangay San Andres, Tanay, Rizal. The first of its kind, the Living Trees Museum is part of the celebration of the 100 years of St. Scholastica's College of Music, the first formal school of music in the country. With them during the contract signing are (standing from left): Tita Rose Tan, chairman finance committee; Sr. Ana Maria Raca, OSB, St. Scholastica's Priory; Lenn Garcia Berroya, chairperson of the Living Trees Museum; Undersecretary Bravo; Annie de Guzman, executive director, music centennial committee; Priscilla Sison dela Fuente, president, SSC Music Alumnae Association; Anette Manansala, DENR executive assistant; and DENR staff.